ONE TEAM • ONE SPIRIT • ONE MISSION

WHY I GIVE

Ryan Luginbuhl

Service Line Vice President for Oncology
Ministry Headquarters, Peoria

I've been a Mission Partner at OSF for 16 years, and every day, I see firsthand the impact of our work. The Mission isn't just a phrase—it's the guiding force behind everything we do. It serves as a daily reminder that we are here to "serve with the greatest care and love," putting the needs of others before our own.

I'm deeply passionate about advancing cancer care, screening, and prevention. By bringing innovation and new science to our patients, finding cancer early, and offering new treatment options, I've witnessed how donations transform lives. Thanks to the generosity of our community, we've begun expanding research, introducing innovative therapies, and providing life-saving clinical trials right here at the OSF Cancer Institute. These breakthroughs wouldn't be possible without the support of those who believe in our Mission.

For me, giving isn't just about writing a check—it's about being part of something bigger. I give because I see the real, tangible impact of every dollar. I know exactly how those funds are used, and I've seen the difference they make for patients and their families. It's a privilege to give back to a cause I'm so personally connected to.

I also believe that everything we have is a blessing from God, including our financial resources. True generosity isn't about how much we give, but the heart behind it. It's about recognizing that what we have isn't truly ours—it's been entrusted to us by God to share with others. That's why I choose to give and why I encourage others to give, even in small ways. When we give from a place of faith and gratitude, we don't just bless others—we find ourselves blessed in return.

No matter your role, no matter your means—your gift matters. It will make a difference, and you will find blessings in giving!
