

Mission Partner GIVING

ONE TEAM • ONE SPIRIT • ONE MISSION

WHY I GIVE

Daniel Luthi

Registered Nurse
Pediatric Intermediate Care
OSF HealthCare Children's Hospital of Illinois

I have been an OSF Mission Partner for 10 years. My role allows me to see the incredible impact OSF HealthCare has on our patients, families, and community. I am inspired to give back because I've seen firsthand the incredible impact OSF has on our patients, families, and community — and my own family has benefited from its care. I've seen how deeply needed OSF's services are, and I want to play a part in ensuring that they continue. No matter the department or job title, every Mission Partner contributes to delivering high-quality healthcare to those we serve. For me, giving back means ensuring that my coworkers, patients and community receive the support they need. I hope my generosity inspires others to reflect on their own and ask, "How can I make this go farther and reach more people?"

As a Christian, OSF's faith-based Mission resonates deeply with me. OSF faith-based history and commitment to affirming the God-given dignity of our patients give purpose to my work as a nurse. It reminds me to serve others as I would serve God. Even on challenging days, it centers me and gives meaning to my work as a nurse.

I love working in pediatrics. It's the best, hands down. Meeting and advocating for some of the strongest kids and their amazing parents is deeply fulfilling. While I'm not God and can't fix everything, I find peace in knowing I've done my part.

Donations to OSF directly impact areas like mine in meaningful ways. For example, gas vouchers help families with transportation, alleviating stress when they need to visit their child. Prescription vouchers for families who can't afford medications have brought parents to tears. These small gestures make a world of difference for those we serve.

Giving back to OSF is a way to show pride in what we do and help more people. Our work is vital, and together, we can make an even greater impact.
