HPP - PHEP Capabilities Planning Guide

HPP Functions

Capability
Capability	Responder Safety and Health Capability	The responder safety and health capability describes the ability of healthcare organizations to protect the Definition	safety and health of healthcare workers from a variety of hazards during emergencies and disasters. This includes processes to equip, train, and provide other resources needed to ensure healthcare workers at the highest risk for adverse exposure, illness, and injury, are adequately protected from all hazards during response and recovery operations.
